Young Man Kills Father
Gilbride—Says He Was Justified.

Police Captain Wounded When He Starts In Pursuit—Priest Was Calling At Home of Assailant.

By Associated Press.
DRACUT, Mass., June 5.—The Rev. Michael Gilbride was shot to death while administering the last rites of the Catholic Church to John King, Sr., today. Police today say that John King, Jr., admitted the shooting after he was arrested but that he felt justified. Police, however, are at a loss to understand his motive.

By Associated Press.
DRACUT, Mass., June 5.—The Rev. Michael Gilbride, pastor of St. Mary's church, was shot to death at the home of John King, Sr., today. Capt. David Petrie, of Lowell police, was seriously wounded while pursuing John King, Jr., who was arrested and charged with the murder.

Father Gilbride had gone to the King home to make a call. What led to the shooting is unknown. Immediately after the priest was shot, the younger King ran from the house with a gun in his hand and rushed into the woods nearby. Capt. Petrie was wounded when the police approached the woods in pursuit. His injury is not regarded as dangerous.

Gregory, Bennie Bowman, 22 years old, and Marlette Daugherty, 18 years old, Parsons, Tenn., were held to the Federal Grand Jury to answer to charges of having violated the national motor vehicle act in connection with the alleged theft and transportation of an automobile from Dyersburg, Tenn., to Harrison, Ohio, last month.

FIVE DROWNED CROSSING RIVER

Three Girls, Two Youths, Perish Rowing Across Swollen Cumberland.

HRD, Ky., June 5.—Five lives were lost Monday night in the flood swollen waters of the Cumberland river at the point where the Rockcastle river empties into the Cumberland about one-half mile above here when three daughters and one son of Robert Bolton, merchant of this place and another youth, the son of Alex Bolton, also of this place, attempted to cross the stream in a small boat they kept there for carrying them back and forth across the stream to attend church at HRD.

Searching parties combing the banks below the scene of the tragedy today found the body of one of the girls, but up until late tonight no trace of the others had been found.

The victims were returning to the Bolton home after attending church services here, and it is believed the flood-swollen stream, higher than it has been for years due to recent downpours of rain, capsize the small craft, when it reached midstream and was struck by the swift current.

One of the Bolton youths was considered an expert swimmer, but the stream at this point now is a raging torrent in which no swimmer could hope to survive.

—"DRY" PRESIDENT

National Prohibition Party is in Session
By Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—The national prohibition party opened the national convention here today to nominate a candidate for the presidency. Leaders expressed the opinion that the party has "the best opportunity since its organization to do some thing on its own account." Twenty-three states, including Kentucky, were represented. Only a dozen spectators were present.

NUMBER WOMAN'S CLUBS DOUBLED

Mrs. Winter, National President, Tells of Great Growth of Club Work.

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, June 5.—In the last four years the General Federation of Women's Clubs has added to its rolls more than 3,000 new clubs, raising the list of member clubs from 2,000 to about 5,000 and the number of affiliated clubwomen to more than 1,000,000, the president, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, reported at the opening business session of the federation's seventeenth biennial convention here.

Besides the addition in memberships and affiliations, some of the outstanding accomplishments of the last four years, since the federation met in Des Moines, Ia., were outlined by Mrs. Winter as follows:

"The purchase and equipping of headquarters in Washington.

"The movement toward universal membership, made actual in 14 states.

"Junior membership organization and club institutes.

"The closer relation of state officers to each other and to the General Federation."

"Every year, with our growth in numbers," added the president, "with our awakening and greater civic consciousness, the demands upon us grow. Possibilities loom upon us suddenly for greater accomplishments, and if we hesitate or turn away, they seek other agencies and warmer hearts."

Paralleling certain changes and movements within the organization, Mrs. Winter explained, "must be added two very important developments for linking up the new and old and pouring fresh currents of life into our veins: first, insuring the continuity of our efforts by getting more and more young people into our organization, which resulted in creating the committee on junior membership; second, the equally important right about face in our attitude toward our jobs that has lifted them out of the amateur stage and made us realize that club work is not a catch-as-catch-can affair, nor to be administered by rule of thumb, but that we needed to school ourselves in the best ways of doing the work to make ourselves efficient. This meant the training school of the Club Institute."

METHODISTS BEGIN REVIVAL TONIGHT

Evangelist and Singer Arrive On the Evening Train—Big Choir
Planned.

The revival campaign will begin at the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Dr. Andrew Johnson, noted evangelist, and Prof. C. P. Gossett, famous evangelistic singer and choral director, will be here on the evening train to begin the campaign.

Musical features for the coming campaign have been particularly emphasized. There will be a chorus of fifty voices and an orchestra of ten pieces. These led by a director who ranks third among the famous evangelists of America should insure music of unusual quality. All city churches will be represented in the choir.

Local ministers who know Dr. Johnson say he is one of the leading evangelists of the day, that he has conducted many successful revival campaigns throughout the country.

MANY WORLD TOPICS BEFORE LEAGUE NATIONS

Council Assembles At Geneva 11th of This Month.

ARMAMENTS TALK

Benes of Czechoslovakia Is President of Body—Will Come to United States Conference in July.

By Associated Press.
GENEVA, June 4.—When Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia goes to the United States in July to take part in the round table conferences at Williams College he will bear a new title, that of President of the Council of the League of Nations. Dr. Benes will serve as president of the June meeting of the league council, and he continues in office until the following meeting of the council, which will be in the closing days of August.

President Benes will call the June session of the council together at Geneva on the 11th of that month. That is the date fixed by an official league communique, which proceeds to present the agenda of the meeting. Like the March session, the June gathering will take up matters of special interest to the American people.

Jeremiah Smith, Jr., of Boston, will come back from Budapest to make his first report about his new job, which is that of managing the financial reconstruction of Hungary. Simultaneously Dr. Zimmerman, who has done fine things for the League of Nations in the rehabilitation of Austria, will visit Geneva to give a further account of Austria's progress towards recovery.

Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the Greek refugee land settlement commission, will be in the United States, but the council will take up the Greek refugee question and decide what new steps should be taken to raise further loans to carry on the project. A report from Dr. Morgenthau will be presented.

Reduction of armaments, which has come to the fore again as a result of President Coolidge's idea to convocate a new international conference at some later propitious moment, will figure as one of the most important items on the June agenda.

The council also will have before it the draft of the convention for control of international traffic in arms which was made up at Paris in the presence of Joseph C. Grew, now under-secretary of state at Washington. Similarly, the sub-committee which recently met at Prague to frame a convention for the control of the private manufacture of arms will submit its conclusions to the council.

Other items on the program include slavery, unsettled matters concerning the rights of German residents in Poland, the traffic in women and children, the Danzig question, the work of the health committee, the report of the economic committee which will presumably submit a convention dealing with unfair competition in business, and finally the financial committee's report on the budget of the League of Nations itself. This budget is so satisfactory that the league debt incurred in purchasing its present home at Geneva is entirely wiped out.

MRS. UPTON QUILTS G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Mrs. Hert, Louisville, Will Succeed As Vice-Chairman of the Executive Committee.

By Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., June 5.—Announcement of the retirement of Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Warren, O., as vice chairman of the executive committee of the Republican National committee was made here today by William Butler, manager of President Coolidge's presidential campaign. Mrs. A. T. Hert, of Louisville, widow of the late national committeeman from Kentucky, will be recommended for the vice chairmanship. She will have charge of the work among women during the campaign. Butler also announced that, in his judgment, it would be fair and consistent that the women representative from each state be given full membership in the national committee.

ARCHER SPEAKS OF CIVIC NEEDS

Suggests Chamber of Commerce and Tourist Camp at Kiwanis
Luncheon Today.

Need of a chamber of commerce or some organized movement for bringing new industries into Middlesboro was emphasized by the Rev. W. B. Archer, principal speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon today.

The Rev. Archer, having been in Middlesboro only a short time, told of how the city impressed him as one coming in. His address, though brief, touched on a variety of methods of bettering conditions, both from the material standpoint and that of the churches.

He stated that a tourist camp is badly needed here. Other towns have private or municipal conveniences of this nature for tourists, he declared, and they are self-supporting. He suggested that the Kiwanis club could foster such an enterprise here. In this connection he suggested that tourists should be brought through the center of town rather than a small portion of the outside of it.

"New industries are not going around begging towns to take them when nearly all the other towns are going out and begging them to come in," he declared, in connection with the chamber of commerce proposition. The presence of excellent clay here, he declared, would make this a good location for a pottery plant. Other plants of this kind even locate in places distant from the clays, he pointed out.

In closing he mentioned the manner in which new industries would be a boon to his own work, that in the churches. At a religious survey made in the state by the churches recently it was decided that a growth in the Middlesboro churches for the next decade should amount to $18,000, he explained. There is a fund of $20,000 to be spent in the town of this section which experiences the biggest industrial growth. He declared this could be brought to Middlesboro if the growth of the town should warrant it.

Charles G. Smyth was the chairman of the day. The silent boost was given by Warren P. Rash. P. M. Parsons drew the attendance prize.

President C. A. Blackburn announced that the next free road work day would be June 27 and invited the Kiwanians to participate in the work. He also suggested that signs be placed along the Dixie Highway coming into Middlesboro which would bring the tourists through the business part of the city.

Trade Prospects In England Not Rosy

Associated Press.

LONDON, June 5.—Trade prospects in Great Britain are not rosy, and no great movement can be looked for during the coming three months. This is the opinion of experts of the Federation of British Industries, who closely watch the movements of the business "barometer."

In a report sent out to hundreds of traders and manufacturers, the federation says the marked improvement in trade during the past three months is nearing culmination, and as soon as the impetus of the movement has spent itself there may be a slight reaction. Abolition of the 4½ percent duties will plunge vital industries into a condition that is likely to ruin their programs for years to come.

Nick Hill Held For Assault and Battery

NEGOTIATION OIL LEASES IS DENOUNCED

Committee Calls It Flagrant Violation of the Law.

NO AUTHORITY

Report Says Congress Should Have Passed On Matter—Urges
Further Action By Congress.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Flagrant violation of the law in negotiating the Sinclair and Doheny oil leases is charged in a report to the Senate today prepared for the oil committee by Senator Walsh, committee prosecutor. The executive order by which President Harding transferred the oil reserves from the navy to the interior department was held in the report to have been illegal and the manner in which the leases were secretly negotiated by former Secretary Fall was described as without regard for the statutes.

The leases themselves were described as "indefensibly wasteful" and based upon a policy which Congress alone had authority to determine. Further action by Congress was recommended in the report.

Urges Spending Pro- ceeds Foreign Loans

BOSTON, June 5.—Pointing to the fact that private American foreign loans since 1919 to date aggregate $1,000,000,000, and that others were about to be made, Franklin Remington of The Foundation Company, today declared at the Eleventh National Foreign Trade Convention, that the policy of spending the proceeds among American industries, of foreign loans placed here, must be adopted.

Mr. Remington said that without such a policy the United States would not get the full benefit of its loans, as is the case with Britain and other countries making foreign loans in undeveloped countries.

He proposed as an immediate solution of disposing of the harassing problem of using America's large stock of gold in loans, the formation of debenture corporations composed of leading manufacturers, cooperating with bankers. He said these two would act as a controlling body over such loans.

Sampson's Appointment U. S. Bench Uncertain

WASHINGTON, June 5.—U. S. Sampson's chances for appointment as United States circuit judge can no longer be called a "chance."

An eminent White House authority said today that with so many available men to choose from, the President is perplexed as to which one to choose. There is now a belief in high quarters that after Congress adjourns he may make a recess appointment and that the appointee may not be Judge Sampson.

Many persons believe that Provence Fogue of Cincinnati may be the ultimate choice.

COMMUNITY CHEST IS NOT YET FULL

Fund Still Nearly $3,000 Short—Subscriptions Coming In Daily.

Contributions to the Community Chest are still coming in though not as rapidly as was expected. The fund lacks $2,998.25 of reaching the full complement, this including the sum carried over from the Community Chest year which closed July 1.

Letters are today being sent out to those who have failed to subscribe with the hope of reaching the quota. If all of these respond with contributions commensurate with their means, the chest will be filled.

A few donations are coming in by mail daily. This method of payment is welcomed by the campaign committee and others who have not been interviewed by solicitors are requested to send in their contributions in this manner. They may be sent either to W. C. Stair or William Walbrecht, secretary of the Community Chest and a receipt will be sent if requested.

TAXATION CHIEF PRIMARY ISSUE

North Carolina Democrats Vote June
7th on Nominee for Governor.

Associated Press.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 5.—With taxation as the principal issue, Democrats of North Carolina on June 7, will vote in a state wide primary to elect a nominee for governor, one United States senator, ten congressmen, and nominees for a full slate of state officers, to oppose the republican nominee at the general election in November.

Angus Wilton McLennan of Lumberton, former chairman of the War Finance corporation and former assistant secretary of the treasury, is opposed for the democratic nomination as governor by Josiah William Bailey of Raleigh, attorney and at one time an internal revenue collector in this state. The winner of the nomination will be opposed in the fall elections by Isaac M. Meekins of Elizabeth City, who was declared the republican nominee by acclamation at the convention of that party several months ago.

In his campaign speeches Mr. McLennan introduced a new phase to the tax question, an executive budget, declaring that he favored substitution of the present budget bureau with a budget commission headed by the governor, who would present the findings of that body to the legislature and who, under legislative enactment, would be responsible for the carrying out of the budget measures deemed necessary by the general assembly. He also declared in favor of the present system of taxation in North Carolina, saying he believed it correct in principle, and that through it much had been accomplished by the state in districts which otherwise would not have been possible.

Mr. Bailey, taking issue with this view, asserted in his campaign addresses that the system endorsed by McLennan placed too great a burden of taxation on land and the farmer, and taxed the producers of crops heavily while business escaped with light taxation.

Senator F. M. Simmons will be certified to the general election, having not been opposed in the primary.

RAILROAD TO HELP VISITING GOLFERS

Extra Sleepers To Be Added At Louisville For Trip To Middlesboro.

Preparations are now being made by the L. & N. railway passenger train officials to afford every convenience possible for the golf tournament visitors here June 25-28.

R. D. Pusey, general passenger agent at Louisville, informs F. P. Seales, president of the Kentucky State Golf Association, that three extra sleepers will leave Louisville with train No. 21 on the evening of June 23. He also states that he will have extra help to assist the ticket agent at Middlesboro to handle the return movement. As all of the men will not be here the entire four days, preparations will be made to serve them at whatever time they wish to depart during that period.

"Mr. Seales and the members of the Middlesboro Golf Club are making every advance preparation possible to insure the success of the tournament and I am particularly anxious that we do everything possible to accord transportation service to the people that will be satisfactory and acceptable in every way," Mr. Pusey stated. The writer states that, owing to an unexpected engagement elsewhere, he will not be able to attend the golf tournament.

State Seeks Trial At the Earliest Possible Moment.

ARRAIGNED MONDAY

Witnesses Watched Closely For Any
Change In Testimony—Loeb
Collapses In Court Room.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 5.—While the grand jury continued to examine witnesses today preparatory to returning expected indictments charging Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb with the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, millionaire's son, the state announced it would seek trial at the earliest date possible. Under the Illinois statutes this would be July 15.

The arraignment is scheduled for Monday. All witnesses testifying before the grand jury are being closely watched and prosecution for perjury will follow attempts to change their statements. Detective Chief Hughes announced that Loeb collapsed today in the courtroom while a woman was attempting to identify him.

It was reported last night that a million dollars had been placed at the disposal of Clarence Darrow, attorney for the defense, who will be in charge of an array of counsel drawn from the best legal talent of the country.

The names of Samuel Untermyer, Charles Erskine, John "Ropes" O'Brien and William Travers Jerome were reported as under consideration for retention by the defense.

Detectives who have been investigating the Tracy and Ream cases were waiting to appear before the grand jury in connection with the Franks case. They asserted that they had found information that may connect the youth with these two crimes. They said they expected to resume their investigation today.

Many of the witnesses, called yesterday had previously given facts to substantiate details of the boys' confessions.

REBUKE

Republican Senators and Representatives who deserted the President on legislation vital to the general interests of the country have been severely rebuked for their treachery to the Administration. Their public excuses have served only to emphasize the enormity of their transgression and to show how keenly they feel the sting of criticism.

Tremendously significant emphasis has been given this criticism of these alleged representatives of the people, who were sent to Washington to support clean, economical government, by the resolution adopted at the joint meeting of the Commercial Clubs of Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and Boston, which recently assembled at White Sulphur Springs. It was a gathering of nonpartisan business men from widely separated cities. The resolution expresses the impartial sentiment of representative citizens. It voices the widespread irritation of substantial Republicans, and of conscientious Democrats as well. It says:

"These organizations, representative of responsible citizenship, affirm their unswerving belief in party responsibility as against class or bloc irresponsibility.

"They disapprove and condemn the action of these nominal Representatives of the President's own party who have repudiated and made ineffective the sound advice of the Chief Executive."

The resolution, which was telegraphed to President Coolidge, should afford consolation to the Executive, coming as it does from stalwart men of both the great political parties. He will appreciate it as an expression of bipartisan sympathy and confidence. He will understand that his courageous stand against radicalism and for economy in government is appreciated by representative men of both parties. It should relieve, in a measure, the embarrassment which these unstable members of his own party, these subservient yielders to bloc clamor, put on him. They should be ashamed to appear at Cleveland to participate in a convention whose delegates, almost unanimously, are pledged and instructed to nominate for the Presidency the man they have so openly insulted and betrayed, and whose best efforts they have embarrassed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Human existence may be divided into two eras: the pre-taxation age, and the taxation age. It requires no historian to remind us that this is the age of taxation and the historians have provided us little information concerning the pre-taxation period. We have no record of a civilization of which taxation was not a component part.

Taxes are burdensome and will become more burdensome as civilization manifests has given us the choice between itself with taxation and no taxes with no civilization. We won't surrender the comforts of our civilization so we must tolerate taxes.

American civilization is a valuable treasure but is not being offered to the public at bargain prices. Our federal taxes for governmental purposes are inconsiderable but for war purposes are oppressive. Few institutions of our civilization are untaxed by the federal government in the name of the World War, which was a product of our civilization. The federal government, national highways, national parks and reserves, the army and navy, the diplomatic service are all quite necessary to our civilization and must be paid for with taxes. We pay state taxes for good roads, school administration, agricultural extension, state government and other attributes of civilization which none would be willingly forego. Then there are county taxes for the administration of our courts of justice, for roads, schools, and the preservation of the records of civilization and its institutions. Municipal taxes took much complaint, but without them we would have no paved streets, fire and police protection, municipal government and civilization. Everywhere there is discontent with increasing school taxes, but the demands for education are becoming greater and greater under our civilization.

Many are the blessings of civilization but they must be paid for—in taxes.

Birthplace of Man Is Sought
By Scientists in Gobi Desert

NEW YORK, June 4.—Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the American Museum of Natural History expedition which discovered the only known fossils of dinosaur eggs, will sail tomorrow for Mongolia to prepare for reception of a party of scientists who will invade that graveyard of mastodons, the Gobi Desert, in search of the "Garden of Eden," next fall.

The 1924 expedition expects to remain afloat for five years, and will exhaust every effort toward excavating the bones of the earliest man in support of the theory that he first dwelt in what now is the desolate Gobi desert, a verdant paradise of 10,000,000 to 25,000,000 years ago.

Headed by Mr. Andrews, the party will include 15 scientists who are acknowledged leaders in their respective fields.

There will be Walter Ganger, chief paleontologist; Charles D. Berkey, chief geologist; James P. Chapin, chief ornithologist; L. B. Roberts, chief topographer; N. C. Nelson, chief archaeologist; Ralph Chaner, chief botanist; J. B. Shackelford, chief cinematographer; S. Bayard Colgate, chief of motor transport, each with their assistants.

Five of the party were members of the three-year expedition which emerged from Mongolia laden with the most valuable collection of prehistoric bones and fossils known to paleontologic history.

They helped to find the famous dinosaur eggs, and it was upon their unearthing that scientists since have built the theory that Homo Sapiens first lived millions of years prior to the "dawn of history" heretofore variously ascribed to the time of the Pithecanthropus, the Neanderthal Man, or the Californian human whose bones, recently discovered have aroused a new controversy among scientists.

The Gobi Desert proved a veritable treasure trove for the last expedition. A few prehistoric bones, exposed to view by a chance shifting of the sands led to the discovery of a huge natural cache of fossilized relics.

Everything was in a marvelous state of preservation after having been insulated from the elements for millions of years by the fine desert dust.

Even the shells of the much prized dinosaur eggs were found intact, with the embryos of the monsters in various stages of development preserved for this age to study.

The discoverers' theory is that the Gobi Desert was at one time a tropical plain, threatened with watering places and covered with verdure on which the mastodons of the time fed.

What is More Rare Than a June Day With Speeches?

Summary of Weather and Crops in State

The following summary of weather and crop conditions in Kentucky the past week has just been given out:

Showers occurred on four days and unseasonably cool weather continued throughout the week. Rainfall was light near the northern border, but increased to 2.00 inches in the southern counties. Corn planting was resumed toward the end of the week, but has not been completed in northern districts. Early corn is generally up, but is small, yellowish in color, and is growing exceedingly slow. The stand is fair to good on sandy bottoms and the warm limestone soils of the bluegrass region; but it is decidedly unsatisfactory on heavy clays, where many farmers are planting the second time. Early corn is becoming grassy and weedy, while land that was prepared early and has not been planted needs disking or harrowing to kill out weeds and prepare a seed bed. Much tobacco land is in the same condition. Gardens continue backward and badly in need of cultivation. Strawberries are ripening slowly and rain has delayed picking. Cotton is beginning to grow, but is very weedy. Some replanted cotton is up and replanting is still going on. Cloudiness and rain prevented curing the first cutting of alfalfa. Timothy and clover meadows are very weedy and in many cases not worth cutting. Farm operations are later than for many years. Except in 1917, the month was the coldest. May on record. Continuance of the present type of weather much longer will result in a reduction in acreage of the staple crops and an increase in the frost hazard.

Church Directories Financed by Advertising

Eleven church directories which have recently been framed at the Altkinney frame are now ready for display in local hotels and restaurants. In connection with the permanent schedule of church services is a beautiful photograph of each church building. Expense of the display was borne by advertising of local business firms.

Union College Graduation Exercises Provide Variety of Entertainments

BARBOURVILLE, June 5.—Closing entertainments of Union College have been of an unusually fine type this year, showing a marked departure from the stereotyped graduation exercises of a former day.

Recital By Voice Pupils
The week's exercises began Thursday evening with a Musical Recital by the classes in Voice, directed by Mrs. F. A. Nunvar. Those who were fortunate enough to see the "Old Maids' Tea Party" and the "Family Doctor" enjoyed an hour of genuine pleasure. The "Old Maids" were a most laughable bunch and it was a difficult task for the judges to decide upon the two who were awarded prizes for the best "make up." The prizes finally went to Miss Dorothy McPhail and Miss Grace Miller. The Operetta, "Our Family Doctor," was cleverly rendered by Miss Lela Vincent, Miss Marguerite Wilson and Messrs Robert Blair and Francis Nunvar. The latter verged on the professional in his interpretation of the "suffering patient," and Robert Blair was well made up as the fake physician. There was not a dry moment in the evening's performance and all students reflected glory upon Mrs. Nunvar's excellent training. The solos and duets by Mrs. Clark of Barbourville, Misses Elizabeth Wilder, Mamie Hensley, Carolyn Stauff and Master Robert Weed were excellently given, and little Miss Lucy Garrard as "The Boy Who Stuttered" and Miss Hensley as the "Girl Who Lipped," made a decided hit.

Unique Water Pageant
King Neptune and his hosts held sway in a beautiful Water Pageant given on Friday evening by the pupils of Miss Cora Sevier. The art of swimming for health, for safety, as a sport and for the mere joy of swimming, was displayed in ways which reflected great credit upon the scientific training of Miss Sevier. The pool was a gay scene, lighted with Japanese lanterns, the entrance gaily fitted up as a tropical bower, where gaily attired maidens discourse sweet music. The "Life Savers" led by Green Turner, performed some fine stunts in the "Cross chest, head and tied swimmers' carry," as well as in the "strangle-hold" and the diving for ten pound weight. The girls showed excellent training in the side and back stroke, the "rolling and dancin' straw" and in the "walking on the water." Miss Frantz's demonstration of "the human pendulum" and Miss Dorothy Nunvar as the "butterfly" were worthy of special mention, and fun for all was had in the "buckeye" and "fan and umbrella" races. Too much can not be said in praise of the fine piece of work done this year by Miss Sevier in her scientific instruction in swimming.

Expression Recital
On Saturday evening the pupils of Miss Drucilla Tye's Expression Department gave an excellent program. Miss Bernice Humfleet in "Humoresque," Miss Ruth Bowman in two difficult selections, "The Skipper's Courtship" and "Cuddie," and Frank Davidson in "The Soul of the Violin," showed remarkable talent and poise, while the selections by Miss Grace Miller, and Ora Shelton added to the success of the program. Miss Tye has studied at Shuster-Martin, Georgia, and is adding laurels to her name by excellent teaching, both at High School and at Union College.

Baccalaureate Service at Methodist Church
The Baccalaureate Service Sunday morning was presided over by Dr. Franklin, the sermon being delivered by the Rev. E. P. Hall, an alumnus of Union College, now pastor of the Methodist Church at Harlan, Ky. Dr. Hall's message to the graduates and to the large audience who heard him was a masterful appeal for character in religion; for strong and inspirational leadership so essential to the social regeneration of the world. Dr. Hall led the Vesper service at 6 o'clock in the Chapel.

Senior Class Gives Three One-Act Plays

Union Chapel was crowded to overflowing Monday evening and the audience was most appreciative of the three plays ably rendered by the Senior Class. "Fame and the Poet," by Lord Dunsany, portrayed the struggling young poet, Paul Sampson, offering his all on the altars of his goddess, "Fame," a part admirably taken by Alphonse Saunders, who proves to be but a common, vulgar impersonation of notoriety. Dan Woodward as the "materialist" was natural and full of humor. The most appealing of the three plays given was "Lonesome—Lige," a simple, human story of "just folks," laid in the North of England hill country. The dialect of the factory hands was finely given by Lillie Owens and Sallie Frederick, while Herbert Perkins, as the bashful, country lad, was all one could wish for in a drama, was sufficiently human to touch the heart-strings of each one in the audience. Gertrude Phillips, as the "Parson's wife" added a finishing touch to the simple story.

"The Knave of Hearts" proved a sparkling climax to the three plays. There was pomp, beauty, keen satire and plenty of humor in this comedy by Louise Saunders. The "King," Beckham Garland, "Queen Violette," Elizabeth Wilder, "the Chancellor," Martin Sullivan, and the "Knave," cleverly taken by B. F. Hensley, formed a cast which added fresh laurels to the creditable school work of the year. Katherine Lay and Lillian Owens as the "Cooks," and Stanley Black, who "pulled the strings while the puppets added much zest to a bright and lovely little comedy. At a time so rich and varied in College Plays, there is cause for rejoicing that Miss Weeks, Head of the English Department at Union, should make such happy choice of selections for the closing exercises of that institution.

Graduating Exercises

There were twenty-one students graduated from the Academy Tuesday evening, one from the Voice Department, and four from the College. The platform was crowded to its capacity with student graduates, the Faculty and speakers for the impressive closing exercises. It was expected that Bishop Henderson would deliver the Commencement Address, but due to unavoidable circumstances, he could not attend, and an excellent substitute was fortunately secured at the last moment in Rev. J. J. Castlebury, minister of the Walnut Hills Christian Church, Cincinnati, Ohio. Dr. Castlebury made a scholarly address on "The Duty of Right Thinking," showing that the problem of civilization was one of rightly used knowledge and clear, and independent thinking. The two numbers by the Orchestra, led by Prof. Nunvar, were well rendered as was the additional music by Miss Lela Vincent, and Misses Wilder and Wilson. Dr. E. T. Franklin, President of Union College then presented each graduate with the diploma and the four graduates from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Those receiving degrees were Miss Dorothy Nunvar of Missouri, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. F. A. Nunvar of Union College Faculty; Jettie Stratton, of Pikeville, Ky., whose sweet voice will be sadly missed as she expects to teach next year; Jackie Howard, Bell County, and Robert Blair of Corbin. Miss Lela Vincent received her diploma from the Music Department, and the following were graduated from the Academy. With special honors, B. F. Hensley, Clay County, President of the Class of '24, Lillie Owens, Maysville, Alphonse Saunders of Barbourville, Ethel Payne, Corbin, Annie Taylor, Knox County, Beckham Garland, Barbourville. Others receiving diplomas were: Katherine and Pauline Lay, Barbourville, Paul Sampson, Barbourville, Arthur Delph. Lynch, specializing in business administration, Mrs. Gertrude Phillips, Barbourville, Martin Sullivan, Knox County, Clarence Webb, Manchester, Stanley Black; Sallie Frederick, Mrs. Miracle, Julia Walker and Estill Botner of Barbourville, Herbert Perkins, Rockhold, Elizabeth Wilder, of Corbin, and Dan Woodward of London, Ky.

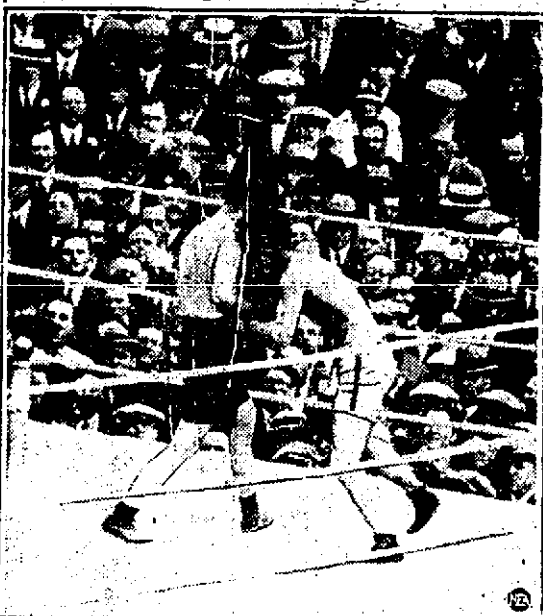

Pres. Franklin declared the past year to have been one of the very best in the history of Union College, which will continue to present an effective educational program for social and spiritual growth. Some changes and additions have been made in the faculty the coming year, which were approved by the Board of Trustees which held its annual meeting Tuesday. A promising addition has been secured in the person of Dean F. E. Matheny of Berea College, who will be the Dean of Men. Prof. Wright will be the new Head of the Science Department, and comes to Union from

NEW PLUGS REDUCE FIRE INSURANCE

House Rate Decreased From 90 to 51 Cents If Accessible to Hose.

Four additional fire plugs on Exchange ordered by the city commission at the meeting this week will result in a substantial reduction in fire insurance to the residents affected, according to a local agent.

Houses now in the tenth class of insurance will be brought down to the next class and the rate will be decreased from ninety cents to fifty-four cents on the hundred, he stated. To obtain this rate, houses must be entirely accessible by the fire-fighting apparatus and within 1,000 feet of the plug.

It is not likely that the proposed addition equipment to the fire fighting apparatus will result in a general city-wide reduction in rate, he says, as another fire company with regular men would be necessary to have the fire insurance classification of the city changed.

The two city trucks has been made into an auxiliary fire fighting apparatus. A reel of hose is kept suspended over it so that, in case of fire, it can be lowered on the vehicle instantly. J. D. Haddix and Otto Lawson form an extra company for the truck. The truck has 500 feet of hose and another similar quantity has been ordered.

C. E. Cooke, commissioner of public safety, states that he will do all in his power to have fire insurance rates reduced here during the remainder of his term of office. He believes this is possible by the extra fire fighting facilities.

Much Home Produce On Markets Here Now

In spite of the belated summer Ames College, Iowa. It is probable that Rev. C. E. Vogel of Berea, will take charge of the Life Service work and Bible classes, living among the students and taking part in all student activities. Miss Weeks returns as Head of the English Department and Dean of Women, Miss Carter, Academy English and Latin, Prof. Hayes, History, Prof. Peavy, Bible, Prof. Humfleet, Mathematics, and Prof. Funk, Prof. in Athletic Direction. The College is taking on new life and vigor, seeking to meet the needs and demands of the community and of the church which it represents, and "pledged to educational service for leadership in the mental, moral and spiritual building of a Kingdom of Righteousness."

Girl Scouts Spend Yesterday At New Home

The Red Cross and Blue Bird Troops of Girl Scouts spent the day yesterday on the site which has been purchased for their new home by the Community Chest funds. This is a beautiful place, located on the hill just this side of the reservoir hill, on the Fern Lake Road. The girls cleaned up the place and planted flowers yesterday. They will camp there this summer and later they expect to erect a building on the site. Water will be piped to the place from the tank and electric lights will be provided.

The troops, accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. H. H. Saunders, Mrs. W. C. Stair and Miss Henrietta Gordon,

THE WEATHER-VANE

By Wilfred Thornley

O steeple-cock, stoop down to me
And tell me what you see afar!
A sail that flickers on the sea
No bigger than a star.

O make your flange a beacon, fowl,
And let your wings be lanterns both!
Afar I see the tempest scowl,
And all the waves are wroth.

Look well again, good steeple-cock,
And can you see her lantern-park?
Nay, now she runs upon a rock,
And founders in the dark.

O steeple-cock, say one is saved,
One only had that shall not drown!
I saw a sudden land that waved
But once, and then went down.

Fly, steeple-cock, with my true pledge
And say I love him, ere he die!
Too heavy is my golden fledge,
Good lass! I cannot fly.

Worth racing for

See, Mister, if you've ever tasted the real Orange-Crush, you'd race your legs off just to get one!

Here are six reasons why it's so delicious: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges—which gives that delicate and distinctive flavor; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes)—which gives the tang; (3) Orange juice; (4) Carbonated water—which gives "zip," sparkle, punch; (5) U. S. Certified food color—which makes it as appealing to the eye as to the taste; (6) Pure cane sugar.

That's all. My, what a drink!

Four "Sweet Girl Graduates" In One Middlesboro Family

Just at this time of graduation exercises and excitement, attention is called to one Middlesboro family that has not only four members graduating this spring, but four daughters. Which in this age of new dresses, parties and flowers for the sweet girl graduate, is indeed a matter of note.

This is the W. L. Gunn family, the members of which have not only come creditably to the time of graduation, but have all won honors for unusual scholarship during their school days.

The four graduates are: Miss Margaret Gunn, who received her B. J. degree from the School of Journalism, University of Missouri, yesterday; Miss Katherine Gunn, who was given a B. S. Degree in science from the University of Kentucky Monday; Miss Laura Gunn, who was graduated from Hamilton college last week; and Miss Virginia Gunn, who was a graduate from Middlesboro Junior High here this year.

Asks Union Fight Foreign Trade Advantage

BOSTON, June 5.—Union of the American people for exploiting existing foreign trade advantages was demanded today by J. J. Mr. Donovan, speaking on "American Foreign Trade Policy," made a statement.

Harry Woolie, Universal Film company representative who has been here since Sunday, has gone to Harlan.

Mrs. Pat Caton of Pineville was in Middlesboro yesterday.

comprehensive analysis of the wealth of the United States, pointing out that in the last two decades American foreign trade had grown from less than $1,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000 yearly. He said that this was the best proof that there was no such thing as economic self-sufficiency left to any nation, and that now the United States was definitely a part of the international world of human relationship.

Mr. Donovan pointed to the unparalleled development of the weapons of prosperity, namely, production, transportation, communications, and finance, within the United States, but said that in the last three this nation was handicapped abroad.

He said that greater wealth would come through a persistent and consistent merchant marine policy, and the handling of foreign loans for the benefit of American industry.
